

Bitcoin and Ethereum (do we need to invest?)

Date: March 27, 2018

It's bear market as of this moment. Fear to those who invest, resulting in long liquidation. Other believes that the bubble in Bitcoin has burst, While others hope and strongly believe that the current fall is only a correction, and it will lead to higher price later in the year.

David Brake, Founder and Chairman of investment firm LDJ Capital believes that Bitcoin will reach to $30,000.00 by the end of 2018. That is 262% return to the current level.

On the other hand. We in ethtrade.club believes that investing in our platform will help us to grow our ETHEREUM and ETHTRADE TOKEN (ETHT) no matter what the market show.

BTC/USD

Though Bitcoin broke out of the descending channel on March 20, it could not cross above the 20-day EMA. Currently, prices are again threatening to dip back into the channel, which is a bearish development. Our long positions initiated at \$8,800 are trading under a loss. As the setup looks negative, we suggest booking a loss on 50 percent of the open positions and holding the rest with the stops at \$7,600.

The next support on the downside is the March 18 lows of $7,715, below which, a retest of the February 06 lows of $6,075.04 is possible.

Our bearish view on the BTC/USD pair will be invalidated if prices breakout and sustain above the 50-day SMA.

ETH/USD

Ethereum is in a strong downtrend. It continues to trade inside the channel and below both the moving averages, which are falling sharply. The recovery attempt by the bulls failed at the $590 levels.

The question is, Do we need to buy this coins? Or we need to invest and let our platform trade with you and reduce the risk level.
